VOLUME C VI--NO. 204.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 29, 1905.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

DON'T BE HYPNOTIZED.

Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of thousands of cures of women's peculiar ailments. It is the only remedy for women's ailments sold by druggists, that is not full of "booster" poor quality, or bad alcohol.

A guarantee of its efficacy is offered that "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drugs. Keeps in any climate.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing, cordial, and restorative tonic.

It is an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you an alcoholic substitute for this world-famous medicine. You know what you want. It is his business to meet this want. When he urges some substitute he is thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of Medical Advice, a book that sold to the extent of 50,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.00 per copy. Many have given away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover the cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address: Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

If out of health, write to old Dr. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice without charge.

These sugar-coated little pills are the smallest, the easiest to take, and the most effective in the way they act. No griping, no violence, no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. E. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago. They have been much imitated but never equalled. They come in vials, always fresh and reliable, a convenient ready remedy.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpelie in Is Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many vigor men look nice and smell nice, but the point is do they eradicate Dandruff and stop the falling of the hair? No, they do not, but Herpelie does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpelie stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelie Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatin.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

SINKING OF A STEAMER.

Twenty men, constituting all but two of the officers and crew of the American steamship Peconic, Captain Jones, bound from Philadelphia to New Orleans, with coal, were drowned by the sinking of that vessel off the coast of Florida yesterday.

The disaster was the result of a fierce gale, which raged along the coast during Sunday night and yesterday morning.

Lashed by the storm, an immense wave struck the vessel with terrific force about 12:30 o'clock in the morning. The impact coming just as the vessel was making a turn caused the cargo to shift and the vessel careened and sank immediately.

The accident occurred so quickly that only two of those aboard her—an Italian and a Spaniard—were able to save themselves. They succeeded in getting into a lifeboat and reached Amelia Beach. On landing they told the story of the disaster. Being unable to speak a word of English, they had great difficulty in making themselves understood.

About midnight of Sunday, during the heaviest part of the storm, which had raged all day, the officer of the deck gave the order to put farther out the sea, as he feared they were approaching the coast too closely. In the endeavor to turn the ship was struck with a heavy sea, the cargo shifted and she began to fill rapidly. In less than 10 minutes after the alarm was sounded she had gone to the bottom and no trace of her was left upon the waters.

The account of the escape of the two men out of all the ship's crew was remarkable.

One of these men was at the wheel at the time the order was given, the other being on watch. As soon as the ship began to careen these two men rushed for one of the small boats, into which they jumped as the steamer settled. With their knives they severed the ropes as the water level was reached, and the small boat was thrown far out on the waves.

They further say they saw through the blackness and storm the figures of part of the awakened crew, some of whom managed to crowd into another of the boats. This was, however, caught in the trough of the sea, thrown violently against the ventilators and then wedged fast. The pitiful cries of the men for help could be heard as the sea swallowed up the big vessel.

Along through the balance of the night in the awful wash of waters, with the storm raging and threatening each moment to swamp their little boat, these two men were gradually borne ashore toward Amelia island on which they finally landed. Their condition was pitiable and they showed plainly all the marks of a savage battle amid tempestuous seas. Their clothing was torn from their bodies and they were almost exhausted.

The vessel had been engaged in the fruit trade from Central America to New Orleans, but on account of the quarantine regulations prohibiting the import of bananas she had been engaged for two voyages to carry coal from Philadelphia to New Orleans. She was a ship of 1,154 tons register and had on board about 1,500 tons of coal.

Anarchy in Spain.

Prof. Cesare Lombroso, writing in the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna, says that "while in the whole of Europe the revolutionary parties are represented by the socialists, in Spain the movement has taken the form of anarchy of the worst sort, of acts of violence against persons and against existing conditions. Although anarchy in Spain only came into existence in 1855, in 1881 it had reached such dimensions that it was possible to hold an anarchist congress containing 254 delegates, who represented 58,000 votes. In 1885 there were 15 anarchist papers, and the most horrible persecutions and tortures have only succeeded in increasing the adherents of the party.

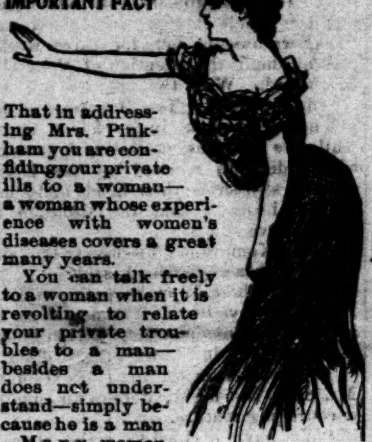

Chili and the Monroe Doctrine. The Minister of Foreign Affairs at Valparaiso has been accused of endeavoring to favor Americans with the contract to construct the Arica-La Paz railway. Several deputes see danger of international complications if the contract is given to Americans. This, it seems, is the outcome of the new definition of the Monroe doctrine by President Roosevelt and his big-stick policy. Chili, according to public opinion, is a well-governed and enlightened law-abiding sovereign country, not requiring protection. It has been sought for. In fact, basing themselves on past events, Chileans distrust and dread more the American government than the so-called European imperialism.

Colic and Diarrhoea—A Remedy that is Prompt and Pleasant.

The prompt results produced by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy together with its pleasant taste have won for it a place in many households. Mr. W. T. Taylor, a merchant of Winslow, Ala., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and also with me on my place, for diarrhoea and colic and it always gives relief promptly and pleasantly." For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

"If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a box of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice."

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

Fell From Parachute.

Losing his grasp on a trapeze attached to a parachute, as the latter opened to the wind, 1,200 feet above the ground, John Williams, thirty-eight years old, was dashed to his death at Red House Park, near Calverton, Md. The tragedy is said to have been the result of the victim's determination to make a balloon ascension. As the aeronaut prepared to make the ascension Williams is said to have rushed forward and seized the trapeze bar, calling to his friends "good-by." As he clasped the bar the balloon rose into space, carrying both the aeronaut and Williams. As the parachute began to fill in the wind, and the rapid descent of the canvas was suddenly changed, Williams, whose strength was exhausted, was jerked loose from the bar and his body shot downward. The aeronaut was uninjured, and lighted a few yards away from the scene where Williams met his death.

TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 29, 1905.

THE civilized world will rejoice to learn that the Russian and Japanese envoys today at Portsmouth agreed upon terms by which the sanguinary war which has prevailed during the past eighteen months in the far East will be brought to a speedy close, and thus render unnecessary another clash of arms between General Linovitch and Field Marshal Oyama. That the envoys have acted upon the lines of humanity and common sense will be the universal verdict. It makes no difference which nation has exceeded in diplomacy nor which has waived claims, peace is assured and the representatives of both nations are to be congratulated. It is the dove of peace, not Bellona, which has appealed to Russia and Japan, and the temple of Janus is about to be closed. May it remain so for an indefinite period. The war between Russia and Japan has been one of the most sanguinary ever known. Many thousands men have been slain, millions of dollars spent and untold destruction has followed in its wake. The success of the Mongolians has been phenomenal, although the Russians have shown valor all through the conflict. The fate of war, however, was against them. May Russia soon recuperate and resume her normal condition, and in the meantime let the little brown man not become intoxicated by his success, but acquire lessons of conservatism and friendliness for his late adversary.

THAT AMERICANS are great meat eaters may be considered a fact of derivation from the hunting and fishing stage of the country's life. So long as meat was abundant and cheap it had the recommendations which led to its choice as the principal article of food. As the Baltimore Herald says, the vegetarian who here and there raised his voice in protest against the consumption of flesh foods was little heeded. A people are guided in the selection of their food very little by deliberate choice. They eat the things which are closest to hand. The time may come with that remote future to which is referred everything Utopian when nations will deliberately select the predominating articles of their diet with reference to the development of special racial characteristics. But at present people in general are not even convinced that what they eat has relevancy to what, as nations, they become. For a few centuries to come Americans certainly will continue to eat the "food convenient to them," while good humoredly allowing the cerealists to tickle their palates with health foods. But even American independence or indifference is amenable to the dictates of destiny. Just now Americans seem to drift more strongly than ever toward a fruit diet. The moving consideration is the fancy figures, with an upward tendency, at which flesh foods are sold. The other consideration is the abundance and cheapness of fruits. As wisdom takes counsel of necessity, a third motive, which of itself would not have great weight, is the superior wholesomeness of fruit foods. This country produces the biggest apple crops in the world. The peach crops are unparalleled, the watermelons and small fruits respond in abundance to the mere tickling of the soil with a hoe. The same story holds true of all domestic fruits. But this term has become elastic. California distributes through the country great quantities of tropical fruits and the area of cultivation of these is constantly extending. When the Panama canal is dug the Pacific coast fruits can be brought to the eastern markets with greater celerity and less cost. Modern means of transportation have made the plantations of the West Indies also almost the same as though they were within the country confines. It is safe to predict that the consumption of bananas, especially will soon be increased. Oranges are being consumed in rapidly increasing quantities. Certainly during the summer months fruit will be king. During the winter months the force of habit will prevail and more fruit and less meat will be eaten.

THAT THE United States has developed wonderfully in the last decade is apparent. While the acquisition of unpropitious and far-away territory has in no wise tended to this result, the country proper has grown in population, trade has been expanded and its industries developed to a great degree. But, according to dispatches from Brussels, the United States is now looked upon as a menace to other nations and Europe is being warned of dire results which may follow the further development of this nation and the construction of a powerful navy. In order to neutralize all this it is proposed to create a world's congress. Incidents at the opening of the Interparliamentary Congress in the national palace at Brussels yesterday morning was the occasion for a notable demonstration in behalf of President Roosevelt and the success of the peace conference at Portsmouth. The session was held in the Senate chamber of the palace. Large delegations representing practically all the leading parliaments were present. The welcoming address, delivered by Minister of State Beer, aroused a storm of applause when he referred to President Roosevelt's two conspicuous movements in behalf of peace in first calling a meeting of The Hague conference, and, secondly, in bringing together the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan. Baron de Favereau, the Belgian minister of foreign affairs, added flattering tributes to the American President's efforts. The congress then adopted, amid enthusiasm, resolutions of thanks to President Roosevelt, and the secretary was instructed to cable the same to him. All this shows the change of the international tide during the past half a century. Up to and for some time after the civil war the United States was regarded but little by other nations; but times have changed, the vigorous republic having grown into a nation strong enough to command the respect of all countries.

TOMORROW will occur the 43d anniversary of the second battle of Manassas in which the Confederate forces under General Lee defeated the federal army under General Pope. In this battle the positions of the two armies were the reverse of those in the first Manassas battle the year before, the Confederates occupying the ground which the federals held in 1861 and vice versa. But in both of these battles the Confederates were triumphant.

THE CITY yesterday throughout most of the day was without an official head, but things went on just the same.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette, Washington, D. C., August 29.

Gruesome human exhibits have figured in the libel case against the newspaper, Rensselaire, at Manila, which charged constabulary officers with undue cruelty to rebellious Filipinos. In order to show the practices of the other side and to demonstrate the necessity of the reconcentration orders issued, the constabulary officers produced native Filipinos who had been horribly mutilated by the larders on account of friendliness toward the Americans. Two natives were brought forward whose lips had been cut off; one old man was hamstrung and a portion of his tongue was gone; one was missing both hands. These were then punished for giving information to the Americans; the man whose hands were cut off was thus punished because he had carried a haversack for an American officer.

Two officers of the United States army who have resigned their commissions expect to serve under the dragon flag of China. They are to receive high rank in return for introducing western military system of the Celestial Empire. The two officers are First Lieutenant Henry L. Harris and Second Lieutenant Morton Russell, both of the 22d Infantry. Harris will be a colonel Russell a major in the Chinese army, the former at $7,000 the latter at $5,000 a year. The negotiations of the Peking government for their services were carried on through Consul General Su, at Manila. It is said that at least half a dozen Americans, who held commissions with the scouts in the Philippines, have been tempted to throw their fortunes with the Empire of the east.

The consulting Board of Engineers will meet here Saturday to consider the various proposed types of canal for the isthmian canal. There are fourteen members of the consulting board, and they have been appointed by this and foreign governments as individuals pre-eminent in their profession. Mr. Shonts presided over the first full meeting of the canal commission this morning for the first time in several months. All the commissioners were present, and Mr. Shonts and General Ernst delivered an informal report on their recent trip to Panama. Arrangements were concluded for the presentation to the consulting board of the propositions to be submitted for their consideration. No fixed plan has yet been determined upon for the compensation of the members of the consulting board.

"Another triumph for President Roosevelt" is the verdict of Washington officialdom in regard to the successful outcome of the peace conference which he inaugurated and which he saved from a rupture by his timely appeal to the plenipotentiaries had agreed upon terms of peace spread throughout the capital in an incredibly short space of time. It came during the lunch hour, and before the government officials and clerks had returned to their desks it was generally known. In most of the down-town cafes the announcement had been made before one o'clock. Next to terms, the influence of the President in bringing about the result was the chief topic of conversation.

The Comptroller of the Currency has issued a call for statements of the condition of national banks at the close of business, August 25.

Chairman Shonts, of the Panama Canal Commission, is suing from two painful abscesses on his arm, caused by vaccination. He was inoculated with virus furnished by the New York State Board of Health while en route to Panama on his last trip.

Thought Washington was a Porter. Booker T. Washington was mistaken for the porter at a leading hotel in Fairfield, Iowa, yesterday, and asked to bring a pitcher of ice water to the room of a lady who had been vainly working an electric bell for thirty minutes in trying to make her wishes known. "Certainly, madam, with pleasure," said Washington, and proceeded to the hotel office, where he laughingly told the clerk what had happened. The clerk made haste to inform the lady upstairs that she had made a big mistake. She was much chagrined over the affair, and sent her regrets. Washington sent assurances that he was not offended in the least.

JAPAN'S NEW PROPOSAL.

Japan, it is understood, will at the session of the peace conference today agree to withdraw her demand for indemnity and propose that an international commission determine the price Russia shall pay for the northern half of Sakhalin Island.

Such a proposition would throw upon Russia, if she rejects it, responsibility for continuing the war.

The Mikado and his leading statesmen discussed at Tokio President Roosevelt's proposition for a compromise.

The Japanese are supremely confident that should the war continue Marshal Oyama will defeat General Linovitch and take Harbin.

Reports that President Roosevelt had taken sides with Japan and held that Japan's demands were right are officially regarded in St. Petersburg as incredible. The Paris Figaro publishes the following statement, which it says was made by a high officer of the Russian Foreign Office now staying in Paris:

When on the invitation of President Roosevelt Russia and Japan began peace negotiations the czar favored peace at any price, except that he was resolved to safeguard the dignity of Russia. The intention of the czar was known in Tokio. In principle peace was accepted and all that remained was to draw up a purely formal protocol. Instructions were sent to the generals in Manchuria and hostilities virtually ceased. The plenipotentiaries went to Portsmouth, not to negotiate a peace, but to confirm one.

But a sudden change came about in the mind of the czar after his interview with the German Emperor. William expressed fear that any concession on the part of Russia would injure the prestige of European nations. Instructions were then sent to M. Witte restricting his powers.

"Nevertheless," said the interviewer at this point, "Emperor William declared that he would not thwart the efforts of President Roosevelt."

"He said he would not thwart them for the good reason that he had frustrated them before they were begun," was the reply.

Questioned in conclusion as to the outcome of the present situation, the diplomat replied: "We must expect surprises."

COBARTH ARRESTED

George Cobarth was arrested yesterday in Brunswick, Md., charged with felonious assault on Miss Rose Holly at Germantown last week. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff J. Emery Nelson.

Cobarth told his story as follows: "On Saturday, Aug. 10, I saw a lady fall in the grass at Germantown. I saw she was intoxicated. I picked her up. She walked along with my help; she did not resist me at the door. I walked in with her. She pleaded to me to let her go and take her to such a number in Washington. I said, 'You are not in Washington and you are not under arrest. She thought she was. I took no liberties until she first gave consent. I handed her money which she said she wanted, but this she left crumpled on the floor in my bedroom. She brought with her whiskey bottle in now in my room. She resisted me at no time, but when she is put on the stand God knows what is put on my will. She did not want to go when Mr. Waters and Dr. Rome came for her at Germantown. She wanted to stay. I didn't attempt to keep her. My God, this is awful! I was at Licksville, Point of Rocks and Taylorstown, Va., as stated, and came to Brunswick, where I bought this grip [pointing to a small rubber shoe]. I also bought a pair of rubber shoes. I never met Miss Holly before in my life that I know of. I am sorry I did not know her."

Sheriff Williams, with Cobarth handcuffed to him, boarded a train for Rockville last night.

Before leaving the train Cobarth said: "I was under the influence of liquor and don't deny it, but so was she. I am a married man, but have been estranged from my family for nine years. I am 54 years old and have two children married."

Miss Holly's version of the affair, as published, was read to him and he said it was an untrue statement.

Murder and Suicide.

Will Barber, a clerk in the office of the American Car and Foundry Company, in Huntington, W. Va., late yesterday afternoon shot and killed Miss Marietta Denny, and then turned the pistol against his forehead, killed himself. The tragedy occurred beneath an apple tree on the lawn in front of the home of Mrs. Mary Deony, an aunt of the girl, and with whom she had made her home. When the tragedy occurred, Mrs. Denny was sitting beside her niece, trying to console the girl, who was weeping for the death of her father, who was buried Friday. Her mother died less than a year ago.

Barber and Miss Denny had been lovers for two years; in fact the wedding day had been fixed for early in the coming September. Yesterday afternoon, when Barber called to sympathize with her in her deep affliction she told him that it would be best to postpone the wedding at least until spring.

The aunt, who was sitting by the weeping girl, suggested next spring or summer, but Barber insisted that the marriage be not delayed. After pleading in vain, he walked away. Returning in about ten minutes, he walked up the lawn to a point a few feet from Miss Denny and fired two shots, both of which took effect, and either of which would have produced death. Going to the side of the dying girl, he turned the pistol to his own head and killed himself.

When commanded to close the knife Dawson, it is said, drew a revolver, and Lunsford ran a mile and a half to his home, procured a shotgun, and it is alleged, waylaid his man in a negro woman's yard. Forty shot entered Dawson's body and seven penetrated the lungs. Dawson is dying and Lunsford has escaped.

Flight in Winchester.

Democratic politics, in Winchester, which has been unsettled since last Tuesday's primary election by reason of United States Commissioner Alvin J. Tavenner's contesting the nomination of Richard E. Byrd for the House of Delegates from Winchester and Frederick county, was further disturbed yesterday morning by a personal encounter in front of the Burgess Hotel, in north Main street, between Harry F. Byrd, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, and County Treasurer Samuel M. Chiles.

Young Mr. Byrd is a son of Richard E. Byrd, whose contest for the legislative nomination with Mr. Tavenner was heated and bitter. Treasurer Chiles is an intimate friend of Mr. Tavenner and is a member of the committee which was charged with holding up the primary returns because of the contest.

When the two men met yesterday morning, while the street was crowded with pedestrians, Mr. Byrd is alleged to have accosted Treasurer Chiles and charged him with being partial to Tavenner. Hot words followed and a desperate encounter ensued, Chiles following Byrd into the hallway, both exchanging blows in rapid succession, until the proprietor, S. D. McDonald, and other separated the combatants.

Both bore marks of the fight. The affair created a tremendous sensation and is the leading topic of conversation. No arrests were made.

PEACE ASSURED.

Russian and Japanese Envoys Reach an Understanding—The War to be Brought to a Close as Soon as Possible.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29.—Another crisis in the peace negotiations between Russia and Japan has been safely passed.

At today's conference another modification of Japan's original demands will be submitted.

Whether this will be entirely satisfactory to Russia cannot now be predicted. M. Witte may be in a position to accept or reject the new proposals, or they may be of such a character as to necessitate their reference to the czar.

Everything now points to a peaceful solution of the problem that has occasioned the crisis here for three weeks and has held the attention of the civilized world. What the outcome will be is problematical. The Japanese plenipotentiaries speak in confident terms while the Russians, professing ignorance of the decision reached by the Tokyo council, still shake their heads ominously, and intimate that the situation is still a grave one.

Baron Komura, in discussing the situation with a close friend, said:

"We are here to make peace, and we intend to have it. If it comes down to a question of money that will not be allowed to stand in the way."

The utterances of their spokesman, Mr. Sato, last night, were of an equally encouraging nature.

"We have decided to make concessions," he announced, "and we will make others if it becomes necessary."

There was much conjecture this morning as to the form these new proposals would take. While it is said that Japan's action will remove Russia's opposition, it is thought that the former's envoys may see fit not to reveal their entire hand at this time.

An early adjournment of today's peace conference is looked for. A cablegram was received at the Russian office at 1:30 o'clock this morning, suggesting that result. It is understood to be another strong indication for peace.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt devoted most of the morning to his correspondence in the library of Sagamore Hill. Secretary Loeb brought up a large packet of official documents from Washington, and Portsmouth, and it was said that noting vitally new bearing upon the peace situation had been received.

AGREED UPON PEACE TERMS.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29.—Mr. Korostovitz telephones at 12:30 to the Publishers' Press the following official statement:

"In the session of this morning, August 29th, the conference arrived at a complete accord on all questions. It has decided to proceed to an elaboration of the treaty of peace. The conference adjourned at 3 o'clock this afternoon."

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29.—Envoys announce that they have reached a complete accord on all points, and that a treaty will be drafted.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29.—Japan and Russia have today agreed to submit a treaty of peace as soon as the details can be completed. An armistice will be arranged at once.

The envoys at their meeting today arrived at "a complete accord" on all the questions in dispute and announced at 12:30 o'clock that they would at once proceed to an elaboration of the treaty of peace.

This startling result was foreshadowed in these dispatches this morning, but it had not been expected that an agreement could be reached upon all disputed points before the noon lunch hour.

Japan absolutely waived her demand for a cash indemnity. This was the decision arrived at by the Japanese cabinet and elder statesmen at their extraordinary session of yesterday. There was never the least doubt that if the Japanese envoys presented their concessions in complete form, unanimous agreement to draw a treaty of peace would be reached. The only doubt was whether the Japanese government, in view of the alleged craftiness of the Russians, would deem it advisable to expose their full hands.

But the Publishers' Press has just received absolute confirmation of its exclusive statement yesterday, that at Saturday's session of the envoys M. Witte extended assurances that if the Japanese government would waive its demand for a cash indemnity the Russian envoys would bind themselves to proceed immediately to the question of a treaty of peace.

The Japanese government went a step farther than its envoys here thought it would, and by deciding to wipe out the indemnity clause, had placed in the hands of Baron Komura the lever by which the obstacle in the form of Russian opposition was easily removed from the pathway of peace.

Cable dispatches have been sent to Tokio and St. Petersburg announcing the agreement and urging the ordering of an armistice at once. It is understood that decrees to this effect will be issued within a few hours.

The Japanese correspondents at the hotels are almost in tears. They declare that it is "peace with dishonor" and say that their country will be wild with indignation tonight.

M. Witte announced at his arrival at the hotel at 1:10 p. m. that peace had been agreed upon. He said that under the agreement Russia was not to pay a kopeck for indemnity, and that Saghalin was to be divided.

It is announced that Russia is to pay Japan a reasonable sum for maintenance of the 80,000 Russian prisoners. The amount will be decided later. It may reach $75,000,000.

Details of the conference are lacking at this hour, 1 p. m., but it is understood that when the Japanese presented their new terms they were immediately accepted. The discussion that followed took up the question of Saghalin, limitation of the Russian naval strength in the far East, and interned warships, and an agreement was speedily reached on each one. It is believed that Japan also withdrew the two latter features of her original demands. The exact status of Saghalin cannot be learned, but it is presumed that Japan will be confirmed in the possession of at least half, if not the whole, of that island.

Oyster Bay, New York, August 29.—President Roosevelt was immensely pleased to receive word from Portsmouth that the peace envoys had reached an agreement. He learned the facts from a news correspondent over the telephone, while he was engaged upon his correspondence with Secretary Loeb. "That is just splendid," the President is reported to have exclaimed. "I have not heard anything that has pleased me so much for years." As no official confirmation of the agreement came from Secretary Peirce at the time he received the news, the President did not care to make any expression of opinion for publication. It is quite probable that he will authorize the publication of some sort of a statement before the day is over, if he hears from Mr. Peirce that the good news is true news.

Mrs. Taggart on the Stand.

Wooster, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Taggart on the stand in the divorce trial, today, told the story of her life at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. This brought out her acquaintance with General Miner and Lieut. Fortescue, kinsman of President Roosevelt, both of whom were named as correspondents in the suits; of the visits there of young woman guests, who, in the words of Mrs. Taggart, as repeated by Taggart, were there to get married, and who encouraged officers to drink in the hope that they would propose while befuddled; also Mrs. Taggart's story of the night at home where Taggart, she says, mad with jealousy, tore the clothes from her body, and beat her without mercy.

"The captain and I, and two Filipino boys and Emma, the cook, composed our family, at Fort Leavenworth," began Mrs. Taggart. "The captain drank at Fort Leavenworth. He was excitable and unreasonable and seemed to imagine things that had never happened. Things were all right when he did not drink. We had beer and whisky. Sometimes, at dinner, I drank a little wine. I seldom, if ever, drank cocktails. I never drank highballs, and when I did drink whisky I drank a little straight."

Mrs. Taggart during the delivery of her testimony denied emphatically the charges that she had been drunk or was guilty of any impropriety with Lieut. Fortescue, as had been alleged.

Recovers at Sight of Stomach Pump.

Chester, Pa., Aug. 29.—A cry of "Man dead!" went up from the home of Wood Jones, of Walnut street, this city, early yesterday morning. Neighbors were startled, Deputy Coroner White was notified and a young woman in the house went into hysterics because Jones, as she thought, had committed suicide. Jones had a quarrel with the young woman. He told her she would never see him again, and last evening he purchased a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid. Going to his room he made much noise, to attract attention, then fell heavily on the floor, after he had emptied the contents of the bottle out of the window. A physician arrived with a stomach pump, and when the victim of despondency saw the instrument he repented and told Chief of Police McGraw that he was "faking" to frighten the girl. He spent the remainder of the morning in City Hall, lamenting his foolish action. The girl is now much better, but says she will never speak to Jones again for scaring her so.

Disastrous Conflagration.

Johnston, Pa., Aug. 29.—Fire broke out at 11 o'clock last night in the big Penn traffic store building of the Cambria Steel Company, on Washington street, and burned fiercely until 1:30 this morning when the flames were under control. The loss is estimated at half a million dollars, on which there is insurance of $392,000. The origin of the flames is not definitely known. Several firemen were slightly injured by flames and falling debris. Property in the immediate vicinity of the big store building was considerably damaged. Fighting the flames was rendered dangerous, owing to the presence in the stock of large quantities of powder, ammunition and other high explosives.

Socialist Nominations.

Boston, Aug. 29.—James F. Carey, of Haverhill, and Patrick Mahoney, of Boston, are the nominees of the socialist party for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respectively. The resolutions adopted at the convention yesterday attacked Gov. Douglas, the democratic party and the republican party, accusing them of the betrayal of labor and expressed sympathy for the Russian revolutionists.

The book is said to be the best which Tolstoy has ever written.

Makely vs. Southern Railway.

Judge Nicol, of the Circuit Court of Alexandria city, yesterday handed down the following opinion in the case of Mrs. Catherine Makely vs. the Southern Railway Company. The plaintiff claims that her property on the west side of Henry street, between Wolfe and Wilkes, has been injured by smoke from the round house and other buildings and locomotives of the defendant company.

Catherine Makely vs. Southern Railway Co. In the Circuit Court of Alexandria city, Va. On an application for an injunction. Having considered the bill of complaint and the answer of defendant thereto, and the affidavits and exhibits therewith filed of both complainant and defendant, and the arguments of counsel, both oral and written, submitted in behalf of the parties, I am of opinion as follows:

1. That the defendant, as against complainant, is entitled by prescription to have and maintain its tracks in, along and upon that portion of Wolfe street, between Henry and Fayette streets, in Alexandria city, and to use said tracks in the ordinary, usual and proper conduct of its business, but not to park or stand its engines thereon for the purpose of cleansing the same, or to make said portion of Wolfe street a yard for the assembling and standing thereon of its engines to the injury, annoyance and damage of complainant and her property.

2. That by reason of the suit of Gottlieb Appich (through whom the title of complainant is derived) vs. the Orange and Alexandria Railroad Company (the predecessor in title of the defendant) the complainant is estopped to claim damages from the defendant by reason of maintaining its tracks on said streets, its round house and engine-house for the generation of electricity so long as the defendant conducts its business and operations in a lawful and proper manner, but complainant is not estopped from claiming damages or other appropriate relief for any illegal or negligent use of said streets, or illegal and negligent operation of its said round-house and engine-house for the generation of electricity.

3. That the defendant has erected its round-house, engine-house for the generation of electricity and its tracks on said portion of Wolfe street by authority of law, and is entitled to operate the same in a lawful and proper manner, even though it annoys the complainant and impairs the value of her property (Fisher vs. S. A. L. Railway Co., 102 Va. 863), but that complainant is entitled to the use and enjoyment of her property without molestation or injury from the defendant, except so far as complainant and her property is necessarily inconvenienced and injured by the lawful, proper and necessary operations of the defendant to discharge its charter obligations to the public, but as to all excess of such lawful, proper and necessary use and operation, the complainant is entitled to relief.

4. That whether or not the defendant has been guilty of negligence in its operations of which complaint is made, it is impossible to say from the evidence in this case, consisting mainly of affidavits, and as negligence is a question of fact, that the same ought to be tried by a jury on proper issues framed (vide Redd vs. Edna Cotton Mills, 136 N. C. 342. Same case, 67 L. R. A. 983 and note and authorities), and at the proper time, on application of complainant, a decree in this court will be entered to effectuate this purpose, but that until that issue has been tried and found in favor of complainant, the injunction prayed for should be refused, and is accordingly refused, but as this is an original application for an injunction, which is refused, the application can now be made on the original papers, directly to the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, without having the record in this case copied (section 3438, of Virginia code).

C. E. NICOL, Judge.

Manassas, Va., August 25, 1905.

The Woodbury.

The Alexandrians who attended the launching yesterday at the Harlan & Hollingsworth ship yard in Wilmington, Del., of the new ferry steamer Woodbury, which is to run on the line between this city and Washington, returned to their homes yesterday evening much pleased with the boat and with the cordial and hospitable manner in which they had been received and treated by the officials of the ship yard and those of the Norfolk & Washington Steamboat Company, to which company the steamer belongs. An accurate description of the steel hull of the steamer as it appeared at the launching and of the boat as it will appear upon her completion was given in yesterday's Gazette. The launching was without a hitch and as the boat glided smoothly off the stocks she was christened "Woodbury" by little Miss Mary Simon Callahan, the little granddaughter of Mr. John Callahan, the superintendent of the Norfolk and Washington Company, who broke a galley decorated bottle of wine over the steamer's bow. The visitors were shown through the yards and machine shops of the company and later a luncheon was served in one of the big lofts at the shipyard. Covers were laid for about eighty guests on handsomely decorated tables. Mr. W. G. Coxe, president of the Harlan & Hollingsworth company, welcomed the visitors in a short address in which he spoke of the record time, 48 days, in which the boat was built and of the work she was to perform. Mr. Levi Woodbury, president of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, responded, and spoke of the interest of the people of Washington and Alexandria in the new ferry line and gave praise to the shipbuilding company. He then thanked the directors of the Norfolk and Western Company for the compliment of naming the boat after him, and concluded by saying: "Miss Mary Callahan, my little lady friend, who so charmingly christened the Woodbury, is entitled to be decorated with something that she can use as a memento of this pleasant event in her young life. It gives me pleasure to present her with this chain and locket, and my best wishes that she may be spared a long and happy life." He then hung the chain about the neck of Miss Callahan amid the applause of the guests. Mayor Paff, of this city, Mr. John Callahan and George Uhler, U. S. Inspector General of steam vessels, then made happy speeches, at the conclusion of which the company adjourned and left for their respective homes.

At the highway bridge the line will connect with the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon road. The company is now engaged in preliminary work, and it is expected that the actual construction of the line will be begun this year. The officers of the new company are as follows: President, M. E. Church; vice-president, W. C. Pennwitz; second vice-president, M. C. Mitchell, of Georgetown; secretary, John B. Henderson, jr.; treasurer, Charles A. Kolb. Motorman Injured.

While making his return trip from Arlington to Arlington Junction, on the Rosslyn branch of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway yesterday afternoon, Motorman E. M. Davidson received painful injury. In some manner the cog securing the brake handle became unfastened, and the heavy brass handle, in its rapid revolution, struck Mr. Davidson in the side, knocking him from the platform. He was picked up and removed to his home in Del Ray, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. W. M. Smith.

Eclipse of Sun.

The last eclipse of the sun during the year which will be a semi-total one, will occur tomorrow, August 30th, and will be visible in the eastern half of North America, the whole of Europe, western Asia and the northern and central portions of Africa. Scientists have made extraordinary preparations for observing this event. In this city the eclipse will begin about sunrise and end at 7:22 a. m. One of the eclipses of the sun occurred this year, on March 5th, but it was invisible in America.

Charged With Theft.

George J. West, twenty years old, who lives a short distance below Alexandria, was arrested in Harrisonburg Sunday for an alleged theft, charged to have been committed by him in Washington. It is charged that he stole some valuable jewelry and $10 from the room of Murdock C. Murray, 412 6th street northwest. Part of the stolen jewelry it is said was found in his valise, West claimed he obtained the articles from a strange man.

Perfection
Mosquito and Fly
Canopies.

Why be annoyed by mosquitoes and flies when it can be prevented by a very small expense and no trouble?

We call special attention to the fact that the "Perfection" 5-roll canopy springs have been THOROUGHLY TESTED in tension, action, power, and endurance, and found that they will lift any grade new tent to a perpendicular position against the head board, and will also undergo the strain of being fastened down, day and night, continuously for many months without showing signs of weakness, when properly adjusted. They are small in diameter, noiseless in operation, look neat and pretty; are not clumsy nor in the way; are strong and durable, and the most perfect canopy springs ever put on the American market.

Made in all sizes and can be adjusted to either metal or wood beds. Have us put one up for you, and after one week's trial, if not entirely satisfactory we will take it down and refund your money.

THE ISLAND OF SKAHALIN.
The Island of Skahalin, or its native name, Tarak, is a long, narrow strip of land that extends almost due north and south a few miles off the coast of Asiatic Russia, in that vast ocean Asiatic Russia.
It is in the extreme southwest part of the Sea of Okhotsk, in latitude 52 degrees. It is separated from the mainland and only by the 3.5-mile wide Mami Strait. The island is fertile, mountainous and cold, it offers little encouragement to agriculture, but is extremely rich in coal and is said to possess great deposits of gold and other precious metals. Its coast line is bleak and uninviting. On the western shore lofty cliffs sheer out of the sea, unbroken by bays or any indentations of land whatever, while the eastern coast is little better, although here and there narrow inlets and lagoons pierce the barren rocks. Huge forests, however, abound and will be a source of fabulous income to the island's future owner.
But its chief value lies in its fisheries.
Its waters are said to be the finest fish-ground in the world. The population of Skahalin is insignificant. In 1872 there were 18,000 inhabitants, counting all wrecks and conditions, and today there are about 36,000, a little more than one person to the square mile.

Cholera in Prussia.
The official Reichs-Anzeiger of Berlin says that since August 14 seven cholera cases, three of which were fatal, have occurred in the Weichsel district, east Prussia. Traffic from Weichsel has been placed under medical and police control.
Dispatches from Danzig say the cholera bacillus appears to have spread further than the health authorities on Saturday supposed.

Apprehension is felt at Thorn and Bromberg and in the small river towns from the Russian frontier to Danzig, although nothing like a panic can be said to exist.

The water in the river Weichsel flowing out of Russia is contaminated, but no one knows if few or many cases of cholera exist up the stream whether proper precautions are being taken.

The situation in east Prussia is compared with that of the United States and Cuba in the case of yellow fever epidemics, but instead of a wide ocean channel flowing between Prussia and Russia, the latter's territory is continental and Prussia is quite powerless to enforce sanitation over the border.

A Warning to Mothers.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against fowl troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to grip. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in the case of cholera infantum. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F.
Creighton & Co.

Pleasantly Effective.
Never in the way, no trouble to carry, easy to take and never failing in results and all of the ills resulting from constipation.

They tonic and strengthen the liver. Cure
Jaundice. Sold by W. F. Creighton, & Co.
401 King Street.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.
It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did.
She says: "My heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found my cure. I needed, for they quickly relieved and sold under guarantee by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists at 50c a bottle.
